Our Book of Knowledge

Chapter I — In September of 1942 the cover of our book of four chapters was opened officially but gently. The characters (and I do mean characters) had a very strange idea that they were going to whiz thru the next four years—that is until they bumped into a few little things like Latin, algebra, general science, and English. But as the year went by something must have penetrated our gray matter for many obtained high ratings in scholarship.

Our heroes and heroines humbled themselves by saluting their superiors(?) the sophomores. They hadn't realized that there were so many different salutes. We regained our faith in mankind, however, when the Sophs gave us a super party.

This year our heroes looked very promising in the athletic field.

Chapter II — Now it is our turn to give it to those little freshmen. Aren't they inferior to us older sophomores?

The end of this year found high rates again, in sports and scholarship.

Chapter V — Our third year—one to go. We really started this year off with a bang (pop). The sale of magazines excelled all other class goals. Just about everyone in town was asked the same question,—"Want to buy a subscription—huh?"

Athletics flourished and our heroes and heroines became actors and actresses in the Junior Play, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

The year ended with the Junior-Senior Prom at Congress Lake on May fifth—a grand end for a grand year.

Chapter IV — The last chapter of our book is filled with excitement, work, dreams of the future and yes, even love (puppy love).

"Don't Take My Penny," The Westinghouse Test, Debate and Speech Contests and also the sports were only a few of the highlights which will always be remembered.

On the last page is found the memories and thrills of the last Junior-Senior Prom, Baccalaureate, and Graduation, the greatest of all days.

This may be the end of our book here at North Canton High but a sequel will be written in college, in business, and in homes in the future years.

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR:

The Sophomores started off by giving us, the class of "47," a big send off with an initiation party. (The Juniors were certainly represented there too.) Our struggle during the first year proved of some avail, for many of us went through the agonies of scholarship with flying colors. Our class, being one of the largest up to date, occupied three home rooms.

SOPHOMORE YEAR:

We gave the succeeding class an initiation party by which they'll remember us. (How COULD they forget?) A few of our boys got in on varsity sports while many still progressed in scholarship.

JUNIOR YEAR:

We're Juniors at last, much to our surprise, and there's nothing like a play to show off our Barrymore talent. Quite a few of our boys are now included in varsity sports. Debate was organized this year and included a number of our members. Last but not least, the biggest shindig of the year—the Junior-Senior Prom.

CLASS HISTORY

In the year of "45" we were welcomed into North Canton High by an initiation and party given by the Sophomores. We graciously returned their kindness by giving them a successful party later in our freshman year.

Now that we are Sophomores and half way to our goal, we have been showing some of the abilities that we possess. Highest among these are sports. The boys have been very active in both football and basketball, and have won honors. They show great promise for future champion teams.

There were more members of the Sophomre class that participated in scholarship tests than any other class. The Sophomores also had representatives on the Debate team, and in the Dramatic Club play.

Music Thoughts

"The man that hath not music in himself, and is not moved with concord of sweet sounds, is fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils; let no man trust him."—Shakespeare.

"Music is the art of the prophets, the only art that can calm the agitations of the soul; it is one of the most magnificent and delightful presents God has given us."—Luther.

"There is something marvelous in music. I might almost say it is, in itself, a marvel. Its position is somewhere between the region of thought and that of phenomena; a glimmering medium between mind and matter, related to both and yet differing from either. Spiritual, and yet requiring rhythm; material, and yet independent of space."—H. Heine.

Cheerleaders

The enthusiasm and the spirit at athletic games is dependent upon the cheerleaders that direct the cheering. The quintet of girls that served during this year has done a commendable piece of work. It was just easy to cheer when these girls were in front of a group. Barbara and Norma will form the nucleus of next year's pep mongers.

Custodians & Office Secretary

This is Mr. Brown's silver anniversary year of service to the Board of Education. For twenty-five years he has been serving as custodian of the Portage Street building. When Mr. Brown entered upon his duties there, the building housed both the Grade School and the High School. In the early years of his service the building was enlarged to accommodate the rapidly growing system and in 1930 the High School moved to the present building.

The many groups that have used the Grade School Gym for various High School Activities have vivid memories of the painstaking way in which Mr. Brown provides for all necessities. We salute a man of sterling qualities for a job well done!

To Miss Studer, our office secretary, we owe a vote of appreciation for all of the aid and information which she daily distributes among us.

To sum up in a brief statement the work of Mr. Lantry and Mr. Bowers, let us say that whatever needs to be done, whenever and wherever necessary, they are always ready and willing to be of assistance.

For the unceasing efforts of these people who keep the High School running smoothly and efficiently, we offer our sincere gratitude and extend the hope that their services may long be available to the students of North Canton.

Junior Play

The Junior Class presented "Yankee-Doodle American" a three-act Comedy by Dana Thomas. The Cast consisted of Shirley Bradford, a girl who loves only books; Jessie Bradford, her mother who worries about it; Gram, Mr. Bradford's mother; Albert Bradford, the father; Loretta Bradford, a girl who loves anything but books; Lucius Brown, a neighbor's son; Richie Bradford, a boy who prefers to be called "Dick"; Marilla Johnson, a new girl in town; Wilbur Judson, Mrs. Bradford's uncle; Bill Sargeant, the "bread boy"; Mrs. Cameron, a member of the school board; Mrs. Greatrake, a prominent clubwoman; and Mary Johnson, the high school principal.

Jessie Bradford has a comfortable home, a good husband, and three fine children. Of course she could wish Shirley were less brilliant—or, at least, made less show of it—and took more interest in glamour. Even sixteen-year-old Richie seems disinterested in the opposite sex—but then Richie hasn't met Marilla yet. Loretta isn't much of a problem if you discount her report cards.

This is a rollicking gay comedy of family life. Uncle Wilbur Judson, having faced the enemy at San Juan Hill, is ready and eager to face him at seventy-one—no matter what guise that enemy takes. Grandma, whose chief diversion is scolding about Uncle Wilbur, knows how to do a " 'bout face" when the occasion demands. Shirley finally decides that even a bookworm can turn. The plot deals with real estate deals, an American History contest, and tips on horse racing.
